Welcome 2024 TOTA Annual Conference

John S. Luna, OTR, OTD, TOTA President

John S. Luna, OTR, OTD

On behalf of the Texas Occupational Therapy Association, I'd like to personally welcome you to Frisco and this year's annual conference. This year's theme is "Building Resilience in Changing Times," and we hope the conference will help you do just that. Change is inevitable, but within every change lies an opportunity. Your state association is dedicated to securing these opportunities for its members and the occupational therapy profession as a whole.

Texas boasts one of the country's largest populations of occupational therapy practitioners and future practitioners. This conference highlights Texas' rich history in the field of OT, the abundance of practice resources for Texas practitioners, and the warmth of our OT community. We hope you find time to visit with old friends and network to create new connections and relationships. We hope your interactions with our remarkable OT community and the experiences in the variety of sessions presented at our conference will increase your resilience and give you a renewed spirit with which to serve your clients.

This year's conference featured a record number of submissions for presentations, posters, and research forums, offering a range of topics for students and practitioners across all practice areas. So, we hope you will find something you enjoy attending. Additionally, the start of this year's conference places us just 60 days from the beginning of the 89th Legislative session. Take time to join us for session 122 on Friday at 2:00 pm to catch up with the TOTA legislative team, learn about the association's recent advocacy efforts, and gain insights on how your involvement can make a difference in the future of Texas OT. Don't forget to mark your calendars for February 4, 2025, for TOTA's Day at the Capitol.

This conference wouldn't have been possible without the hard work and dedication of practitioners and students who volunteered their time and talent. Their efforts included updating and implementing the Oxford abstract for conference submissions, securing this extraordinary venue, preparing ribbons for your name tags that you can proudly display as you walk between sessions, arranging awards to recognize extraordinary accomplishments, and ensuring the quality content of each session you attend. We extend our heartfelt thanks to every person who made this happen. Thank you!

Finally, thank you for attending. Whether you are here as a first-time attendee, presenter, or volunteer, your presence reflects your commitment to your profession and the clients we serve. Your dedication and remarkable skills empower our clients to live their best lives, and your TOTA membership empowers the profession of occupational therapy in Texas. Thank you again for all you do, and welcome to this year's conference.
