Speaker Bio:

Amy Collins is a licensed occupational therapist in Texas with over 20 years of experience in school-based practice leadership. She has led teams of up to 42 therapists, providing training, coaching, and oversight. Additionally, Ms. Collins has played a key role in the development and management of the TxSpot.org website, which is dedicated to leadership in school-based occupational and physical therapy in Texas. Ms. Collins produces a monthly newsletter updating and informing people on topics related to school-based OT and PT in Texas, which is sent to over 800 recipients. She also leads a school-based OT Leadership Group that meets virtually every month. Ms. Collins has contributed to various American Occupational Therapy Association (AOTA) workgroups, reviewed conference proposals for AOTA, and served as an editor for the Journal of Occupational Therapy, Schools, and Early Intervention (JOTSEI). She has authored several publications in the American Journal of Occupational Therapy (AJOT) and JOTSEI. Furthermore, she has presented at local, state, and national conferences and has trained groups and teams of up to 250 people across Texas in school-based occupational therapy. Speaks on Dysgraphia
